

Healthcare FAQ

Can this assistant diagnose me?

No. This assistant provides general educational information only. It cannot diagnose conditions, interpret personal test results, or recommend personal treatment or medication. A qualified healthcare professional should be consulted for personal medical decisions.

What should I do in an emergency?

If you or someone else has severe chest pain, difficulty breathing, signs of a stroke such as face drooping, arm weakness or slurred speech, severe bleeding, or loss of consciousness, call your local emergency number immediately.

How often should I check my blood pressure?

Many adults are advised to have their blood pressure checked at least once a year, and more often if it has been high or if they have other risk factors. A healthcare professional can advise on the right schedule.

Where does this information come from?

The documents in this knowledge base are short synthetic educational summaries created for a portfolio demonstration. They are not a substitute for professional medical guidance or official clinical guidelines.